

ENT First Class Test 4th year MBBS (SEQ)

ENT

✓ 1- A 20 year lady came in OPD with complaint of sneezing, watery nasal discharge itching and nasal obstruction for last 10 years. On examination the nasal mucosa was pale looking and inferior turbinate was hypertrophied.

A- What is The most probable diagnosis. 1 Allergic rhinitis

B- Which investigations would you perform to reach the diagnosis. 2 (Book)

What is the treatment of this patient. (notes)

✓ 2- A 8 years old child was brought by his parents in ENT Emergency with complaint of severe earache for last 1 day. He had a history of flue for the last 5 days. On otoscopic examination, the ear canal was unremarkable and tympanic membrane was red and bulging towards external ear canal. Rinne's test was negative

ASOM

What is your diagnosis? Suppurative stage of acute otitis media

How will you manage this disease? 4

✓ 3- A teenager boy after motorbike accident was brought to Hospital emergency. He was vitally stable and was not having any serious injuries but his right pinna was swollen. It was fluctuant swelling at the upper part of pinna

What is your diagnosis? hematoma auris

How will you manage his pinna?

✓ 4 60 years old male known hypertensive presented in emergency with bleeding from nose. His BP was 200/110 pulse was 120/mint.

Whats is the most probable cause of bleeding nose in this case.

How would you manage this patient. ~~Anterior~~ epistaxis? Posterior

✓ 5. write short note on middle meatus anatomy. Book

② ~~It is located ant to ethmoidal bulla. It form the lateral wall of~~
Btw Middle & Inferior turbinate (chancha)
In which opening of middle meatus. & also drainage of frontal