

Obstetrics 12140

5

CLASS TEST FINAL YEAR FEB 2016 (OBSTETRICS)

Attempt all questions.

Total Marks 30

Time allowed 40 minutes

Q1- A G3P2+0 is a diagnosed case of mitral stenosis came for antenatal check up at 34 weeks of gestation. She is very conscious for her cardiac status

- What are the risk factors for cardiac failure in pregnancy? 4
- What is the prophylaxis for subacute bacterial endocarditis? 2
- Mention heart diseases in which pregnancy is contraindicated? 3
- What is the ideal contraception in this patient? 1

Q2- A 36 years old P4+0 delivered 5 days back by caesarean section for obstructive labour has presented in emergency with H/O breathlessness since 1 hour, pain, redness and swelling in right calf since morning

- What is the most likely diagnosis? DVT / pulmonary Embolism 2
- What are the risk factors for this problem in her? 3
- How will you manage her? 5

Q3- A 37 years old primigravida at 32 weeks of gestation, presented in emergency with complaint of headache and vomiting for last 6 hours, her BP IS 160/110 mmHg, pulse 84/min. on abdominal examination no palpable contractions, FHR within normal range. Her urine for albumin is +++.

- What is your diagnosis? Pre-eclampsia. 2
- What investigations will you carry out for this particular case? 4
- Who are at risk of developing this disease? 4